The Annual

At the last meeting of the Association of Class Presidents the office of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager were filled by the election of Messrs. C. M. Booth and Adam M. Beeler. These gentlemen are both members of the second year Law Class and are well-known throughout the University as earnest, conscientious and successful workers.

The Editorial Board is now nearly complete and Editor-in-Chief will call a meeting at the earliest possible date. The Editors will be assigned to their respective duties and before long has passed will be hard at work upon the preparation of the Annual for 1905. The change in the University name necessitates the selection of a new name for the Annual and this is the first problem the Board must face.

The faculty and the student body through the Association of Class Presidents are lined up solidly in favor of the Annual and have given full power to the Editor-in-Chief to take whatever steps he wishes. It is expected an Annual will be produced that is the equal of any published in the country.

The Board of Editors at the present time is composed as follows:

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

C. M. Booth.

BUSINESS MANAGER.

A. M. Beeler.

ASSOCIATE EDITORS.

Arts and Science.

3rd Year—W. K. West.

2nd Year—J. E. McDonald.

1st Year—W. C. Van Vleck.

Medicine.

4th Year—C. A. Pfender.

3rd Year—E. C. Stevenson.

2nd Year—W. V. Levy.

Law.

3rd Year—John A. Lee.

2nd Year—A. M. Beeler.

1st Year—C. M. Stadden.

Diplomacy.

M. Dip.—W. S. Caldwell.

D. C. L.—John W. Farley.

L. L. M.—W. B. Henderson.

The Board of Editors of the 1905 Annual are very desirous of securing photographs or kodak pictures of any football games, for use in the publication of the Annual. If any of the students have such pictures, the Board would be greatly indebted if they would communicate with C. M. Booth, 1715 DeSales Street.

The Class Presidents.

The meeting held last week by the Association was the most important that has yet taken place and much business was transacted. The roll call showed the following members present, Messrs. Woodward, Collins, Newbold, Atkinson, French, Wilson, Bassford, Pepper, McLean, Moore, Oberlin, Farley and Benson.

The first business taken up was that pertaining to the Annual. Dr. Mitchell Carroll, Chairman of the Board of University Publications was present and explained the position occupied by that Board in regard to the Annual.

The Secretary reported the applications which had been received for the positions which the Association was to fill and balloting was begun with the following results:

Editor-in-Chief, C. M. Booth.

Business Manager, A. M. Beeler.

The presidents then reported the editors selected by the various classes, disclosing the fact that the Patent Law Class was yet without a representative upon the Board and President Pepper was instructed to confer with the Dean of the Law Department with the object of securing a representative for the class.

A committee was appointed consisting of Mr. McLean, Chairman and Messrs. French and Moore, to make arrangements for a joint smoker to be held on February 3, for the Association of Class Presidents, the Board of Editors of the Annual and the Faculty.

After the discussion and disposition of several matters of minor importance the Association adjourned, subject to the call of the President.

Glee Club

A Faculty Committee, appointed by the President's Council to look into the matter, met the manager of the Glee Club recently and after going over the prospects of the club in detail, came to the decision that the idea of a stock company is the most practical solution of the financial situation. The idea of the stock company is a simple one. The club is authorized to issue one hundred (100) shares of stock at $5.00 per share, to be offered for sale primarily to the members of the Glee, Mandolin, and Guitar Clubs, but not restricted to them. At the end of the season, the principal is to be returned to the share-holders; then of all profits, 20% is to be turned over to a committee appointed by the President's Council and the clubs concerned, to be used next year as a basis on which to start similar clubs; the remaining 80% is to be turned over to the share-holders. The idea is the best one that has been suggested. Financially it is sound since the expenses of the club need not be very great and the three concerts planned promise large returns. For the University it will be a good thing since it will give us a first-class club with all the advantages attendant on one, and will moreover insure something for the musical organizations to start with next year. For the club it will be a fine thing. Each member who subscribes will feel his interest in its success increase an hundred-fold.

The sale of stock will open on February 1st, payable the 1st of March. From the present outlook all the stock will be taken at once and the prospect for a club to rival those of Princeton, Harvard and other large universities as ourselves, are bright indeed.

A Track Team

A preliminary meeting of those interested in the formation of a University Track Team was held on Monday afternoon at 5.30, in University Hall. Owing to the examinations taking place at that time the attendance was small and but little accomplished besides the setting of the time for another meeting, on Wednesday at 7 P. M. At this time, all those interested in this organization are asked to be present.

The main object of the meetings now is to decide upon the matter of entries for the Georgetown meet. Several entries are to be made and above all it is desired to enter a strong relay team.

It is understood that Capt. W. C. Bryan, well-known through his four years connection with athletics at the University of Pennsylvania will act as coach. This announcement alone has caused a great interest to be manifested for the ability of Capt. Bryan assures the success of anything to which he may lend his efforts.

The outlook for a relay team seems most promising. The University counts in its numbers many strong and swift runners and there is no doubt that they are ready to come forward now and show what they can do.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

At the last national convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held the latter part of December at Memphis, Tenn., a charter was granted for the establishment of a chapter of that fraternity to the Beta Lambda Beta Local Chapter.

The installation ceremonies will be held sometime during the early part of March.

Chi Omega

Last Tuesday, January 17th, the Chi Omega Fraternity gave a Café Klatche, in room 11 of the University Building, to a number of their college friends.

After the luncheon dancing was indulged in and each visitor was presented with a white carnation the fraternal flower.

Altogether it was a great success and Phi Alpha hopes to give several other such lunches until they have had the pleasure of renewing their acquaintance with all their college friends.

Chi Omega has recently become interested in an entirely new phase of work—that in the Social Settlement in the Southwest. Three of their number have volunteered to assist each week in the various industrial and social activities among the children. In Christmas week, Chi Omega gave a party to some of these children, choosing to celebrate the great festival in this way rather than by the customary dance. Over twenty children were present of all ages and sizes, all of whom, for once in their lives, forgot the daily cares and worries, which are so large a part of the daily routine, and had a royal good time. Songs, which they had learned in the industrial classes and marches occupied the early part of the afternoon, after which the little ones played various games for prizes, eight of which were awarded. The whole was brought to a close by a bountiful "spread."

Medical Notes

Last Friday night at Freund's, a goodly company was assembled, for the purpose of feasting and merry-making. The occasion was the Annual Banquet of the Sophomore Class, of the Department of Medicine. The spacious parlors and dining room was attractively decorated with palms and other potted plants, while the lights streaming from the chandeliers were softened to an almost magical effect by draperies of crimson. The invited guests were: Dr. Charles W. Needham, President of the University, Dr. W. F. R. Phillips, Dean of the Department of Medicine, Prof. Charles E. Munroe, Prof. W. P. Carr, Prof. D. K. Shute, Prof. T. A. Claytor, Prof. J. B. Nichols, and Prof. E. G. Seibert. After an informal reception in the parlors the company repaired to the dining room where forty-two covers were laid. The table was a scene of unusual beauty, with its large candelabra also draped with crimson, vases of beautiful cut flowers, and stands of tempting fruits.

A menu embracing eight courses was then served, and it was very evident that Mr. Freund's chef knows his business.

The menu card, which was also intended for a souvenir, was artistically gotten up; buff and blue, the university colors were carried out in its arrangement. On the first page was printed the announcement, place and date, with the class motto: "Esse quam videre" at the bottom; on the second page the menu proper, on the third the names of guests and list of toasts, while the fourth page gave the officers of the class organization. During the entire evening a friendly spirit and a fraternal feeling pervaded the gathering and clearly demonstrated the "fellow feeling" which each member of the class had for his professors and his classmates.

The president of the class, E. C. Wilson, very ably acted as toastmaster, and after his address of welcome the following toasts were responded to:

Charles W. Needham, LL.D., President of the University—"Our University."

William Alexander Boyd—"Our Class."

W. R. F. Phillips, M. D., Dean of the Medical School—"Notices."

Herbert James Bryson—"The Faculty."

D. Kerfoot Shute, A. B., M. D.—"Recapitulation."

Joseph R. Biggs—"Athletic Prowess."

William P. Carr, M. D.—"Dreams."

Alfred Clark Garton—"Stripes."
Charles E. Munroe, Ph. D.—"Explosives."
Eben Wesley White—"The First Tooth."
John B. Nichols, M. D.—"Slides."
Thomas A. Claytor, M. D.—"Antidotes."
Edward G. Seibert, M. D.—"Medical Ethics."

Paul Anderson—"In Futuro."

Toastmaster—Edward Comstock Wilson.

In addition to the set toasts the toastmaster called upon C. F. Bower, H. I. Stout and W. H. Woodruff for impromptu speeches and each responded in his happiest vein, while the "stories" of Hayward and Emery were all that could be desired. When cigars were lighted W. R. Barnesby, our popular tenor, sang several solos to the delight of all present. C. L. Watson accompanying him on the piano. All gathering around the piano, the remainder of the evening was devoted to singing popular and college songs. Members of the class present in addition to these already mentioned were: J. A. Smith, Morris, Stephenson, Wallace, Bogan, Johnston, Mess, Holden, Legg, Howlett, J. W. Hart, Schapiro, Tastet, Walker, Levy, Hoberman, Whamond, Burket, Cliff, Chichester, Dewey, and Weithas. The committee of arrangements were: W. A. Boyd, T. F. Smith, J. R. Biggs, J. M. McDaniels, and C. B. Conklin.

Out of the number of social functions which this class has given, this one was probably the most enjoyable of them all.

Editors for the Annual recently elected are as follows: Senior Medical, Charles Alexander Pfender; Junior Medical, Earle Clement Stevenson; Sophomore Medical, William Victor Levy.

W. A. B.

Dental Notes

Mr. V. W. Potter of the Senior Class, has returned to his college work, after six weeks absence on account of sickness.

Mr. W. O'Brien of the Senior Class, after several days absence on account of illness, is where he belongs again.

Dr. Bovee, of the '04 Dental Class has opened an office in the Rochambeau, and we understand is doing very well.

Dr. A. J. Beatty, of the '04 Dental Class, is now practicing his profession in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. From late reports he is holding his own.

Dr. Charles T. Bassett, the "Gold Medal" man of the '04 Dental Class, is now located at 1129 Seventeenth Street, N. W., and from latest reports is having all the success he so richly deserves. He is also one of the demonstrators in the College Infirmary, where he is very popular with the boys.

The Dental men showed their interest in the lecture given by Mr. Barry Bulkley at the Columbia last week, by their large attendance.

Dental men working in the College Infirmary say that there is not enough material kept on hand to meet their needs. We imagine a patient would not care to sit with rubber dam in their mouths for twenty minutes, while the student chases down to the depot after gold to fill the tooth.

The Dental Class has decided to adopt a new class pin this year. The President of the class has appointed a committee with Mr. Fletcher as chairman, to select designs.

The Senior Class this year are decidedly "ladies men." A young lady was heard to remark several days ago, "that they were certainly a fine looking set of boys."

The announcements made by the Athletic Association this week are of greatest importance and should be carefully noted. At the meeting next Monday these matters will all come up for disposition by the student body.

The meeting will demonstrate if the new Athletic Association has proved a success and if it has the support and interest of the students. Full reports will be given by the President and Treasurer, showing exactly what has been accomplished.

The amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws are simple and will probably not provoke much discussion or opposition. One relates to alumni membership, the other to the necessity for recognition by the Athletic Council of any athletic team which is to represent the University officially. There is no doubt as to the merits of either.

The business of most importance is the election of football manager. Of all athletics football easily takes the lead here and is the only branch which commands the hearty support of University as a whole. The success of the football season means to a great degree the success of the whole athletic season. And the success of the football season depends largely upon the manager. His selection should be made most carefully. The mode of election now in vogue assures the selection of a man fitted for the place. The Athletic Council has considered the claims of all who have applied or been mentioned for the position and its nominations represent those men who in the estimation of the Council, possess the necessary qualifications. They are all well-known and have all held responsible positions in the University. Any one of them would fill the place well. But we want the one who will fill it best.

The vote for these candidates should be free and not influenced by either a personal friendship for one or the other or by any consideration of the department from which they come. Think over the men; make up your mind as to which one you think would do the work best and vote for him on that consideration only.

This week's issue has been attended with more difficulty than any of the present year. Trouble has simply piled up. In the first place it was found necessary to change printers. Then the occurrence of the mid-years examinations seemed to drive all thought and remembrance of news from the heads of the editors; we were left almost without copy and barely by dint of hard struggling has enough been secured to fill up. Many matters of interest have been left uncovered.

With the change of printers we hope to be able to make some improvements. Arrangements have been made which are much more satisfactory than formerly. But henceforth we must insist on one rule which has not heretofore been followed. All copy must be in by Tuesday at ten o'clock. This rule has not up to this time been enforced and it has resulted in hasty proof reading and consequent errors. It will be strictly enforced hereafter.

University Congress

A discussion on a bill establishing a system of parcels post proved an instructive and entertaining subject before University Congress last Saturday evening. For the first time this year the well filled visitors gallery broke into spontaneous applause, occasioned by the remarks of the member from Tennessee.

Friends of the measure were ably led by the gentleman from Pennsylvania. His speech was characterized by a telling way of putting arguments both constructive and by way of rebuttal. A grasp of the subject and an insight into the workings of the system under discussion contributed to the effectiveness of an excellent argument.

Remarks by the member from Indiana called to the remembrance of older members gratifying results of University Congress work. The development shown by this member and by other first year men is in line with the past history of the Congress. Several Varsity debaters have acknowledged the training and development experienced in the work of the Congress, and a desire has been voiced by several of the older members of the organization that the men members prepare upon every topic for which they have opportunity and court encounters with other members. For in no particular is the work of the body so beneficial as in the development of a faculty of sharp and decisive repartee, self-possession amid continual interruption, and that mastery of situation which is often more effective than argument.

Such a poise was evidenced by the member from Wisconsin when he informed the member from Washington that he failed to see how the Government could lower express rates and charge the same tariff as the express companies now exact.

The bill for discussion next Saturday evening contains the same wording as the Quarles-Cooper Gill now pending before Congress. In effect, it delegates to the Interstate Commerce Commission, power to enforce its findings by regulating rates which it considers unjust.

The measure will be in the hands of Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, and Mr. Franklin, of Kentucky. Opposition to the bill will be lead by Mr. Kelly, of South Dakota and Mr. Hogg, of Colorado.

Visitors are always welcome to the sessions, which begin at 8 P. M. every Saturday in University Hall.

Brief

Power to prescribe rates for those declared to be illegal should be given to Inter-State Commerce Commission as it:

1. Is in line with existing Inter-State Commerce regulations
  - (a) Effectualizes Inter-State Commerce Commission which has demonstrated that in it lies remedy for discriminations.
  - (b) Is no more of a step toward Government ownership of railroads than is legislation to enforce adoption of air-brakes etc.,
2. Is conservative because vast interests of railroads remain under protection of Judiciary:
  - (a) By appeal.
  - (b) By injunction.
3. Is demanded:
  - (a) By people.
  - (b) By conditions.

We object to the passage of this bill for the following reasons:

1. The results of the administration of the Interstate Commerce Commission repel the plea for such autocratic powers, because,
  - a Commission has failed to prove a single case of exorbitant rates since its establishment in 1887.
  - b Out of the millions of transactions in the last 18 years, only about seven cases of unjust discrimination have been proven in the courts.
  - c All but about three per cent. of the complaints made to the Commission are disposed of without formal hearings.
  - d The decrease in the average rate per ton per mile in the last twenty-three years has meant a saving annually to the country of $750,000,000.00 based upon the traffic of 1902.
  - e The enormous expansion and efficiency of the railroads, together with the great development of the commercial and industrial interests, are the results of the mild but sufficient regulation of the greatest transportation systems the world ever saw.
2. The Commission and its supporters set themselves up against Constitutional views, and principles of public policy.
3. The power of determining absolute and relative rates by an administrative board would cast upon the executive branch of the Government the responsibility of determining the relative commercial advantages which shall be enjoyed by different sections of the country, which would over-load the Government and be productive of sectional political struggles.

4. The Courts of the country are proper tribunals to determine what rates are reasonable and what are unreasonable, and they are always open to those requiring relief.

5. It is not in harmony with the fundamental principles of our Government to invest a single body with legislative, administrative, and judicial power.

6. Forbids long and short haul discriminations which are just.

7. Massachusetts system of investigation and publicity affords a better remedy.

The Virginia Debate

The committee appointed to make arrangements for the trip to Charlottesville on February 18th reports that they have made final arrangements.

The party will leave here at 1.30 over the Southern Railroad in one or two special cars, as the number may demand. These cars have been chartered especially for the use of the party and will be decorated in splendid fashion in University colors.

Upon the arrival in Charlottesville the party will proceed to the Gleason House for supper. The debate will take place in the public hall of the University, at 8 o'clock.

On Sunday morning a trip will be made in trolley to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson and appropriate exercises will be held there.

The return trip will be made over the Chesapeake and Ohio Road.

The arrangements made are such that put this trip within reach of nearly everyone.

In place of the regular rate of $6.40 to Charlottesville the committee has secured a special one of $3.40. The dinner, lodging, and breakfast at the hotel, will be lowered to $1.50 and the trip to Monticello will cost but 50 cents, making the whole cost of the excursion only $5.40, less than the regular rate to Charlottesville.

The trip promises to be a success in every way.

The following debating team has been selected from among the two literary societies of the University of Virginia to represent that institution in the annual debate with George Washington University, which will be held in the Public Hall at the University of Virginia on February 18: J. Salisbury Lawton, of Louisville, Ky.; Carroll G. Walter, of Winchester, Va., and Lee Bidgood, of Charlottesville, Va., with Joseph E. Rowe, of Emmitsburg, Md., alternate.

Law Notes

At a meeting of the '05 L. L. M. Class held in Room A of the Law Building, Jan. 18th. Mr. Wm. Bennett Henderson, of Kentucky was elected to represent the class as associate editor of the University Annual. There were appointed to assist him Messrs. Green, Harris, Miller and Flournoy. Mr. Henderson was for a number of years a successful editor in his native state and the class consider themselves fortunate in having him to represent them in this important matter.

At a call meeting of the class of '07 last Thursday a Constitution was adopted. By a rising vote the Honor System was recognized and adopted by the class, which hopes to see this principle recognized and followed everywhere throughout the University without exception.

The President appointed on his Executive Committee the following men: C. N. Morris, H. L. Lewis, W. P. Jones, N. Gammon, and F. R. Whippler.

Mr. C. M. Stadden was elected as class Editor of the University Annual.

The Classical Club

The fifth anniversary celebration of the Classical Club was held in University Hall, Wednesday, January eleventh, at eight-fifteen P. M.

Dr. Mitchell Carroll, founder and President of the club made a few introductory remarks stating the aim and purpose of the organization and briefly reviewing its history and then introduced the speaker of the evening, Professor Thomas Day Seymour, L.L. D., of Yale University, whose subject was "Homeric Viands."

Professor Seymour's address was a most scholarly one and all present fully enjoyed his most entertaining description of this phase of Homeric Greek life. His many references to the Iliad and to the Odyssey and his apt quotations of various interesting selections called forth a hearty round of applause.

Professor Carroll then announced that an informal reception would be held in the Library where all present would be afforded an opportunity to meet the distinguished guest. The room was soon filled and the many friends of the club were presented to Professor Seymour.

A charming musical program was provided, including two delightful vocal selections by Miss Frances Bethune, and violin and piano solos by Miss Adele Taylor, Mr. Clarence Whitmore, and Mr. Arthur Schoenfeld. The audience evidenced their appreciation by repeated encores after every selection.

The arrangements were in charge of Miss Augusta M. DeForest, Chairman of the Social Committee.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held some time in February at the residence of Mrs. Samuel Shellabarger, of Seventeenth Street, the speaker of the evening and the exact date to be announced in a later issue.

The Trustees of the University of Chicago have authorized the organization of a new board, made up of officers in the University, to systematize and organize the effort of the University to help students to earn their way in college. The work of this Board will be distinct from that of the Board of Recommendations, the latter limiting itself hereafter to the more definite work of recommending teachers.

The illustrated Sporting News is shortly to begin a series of articles by authorities on athletics. President Hadley, of Yale, will contribute the first article.

At Emperor Williams suggestion Harvard University and the University of Berlin are to exchange lecturers in a lecture course. The head of each University will select the visiting lecturers.

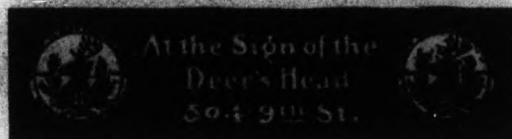

The Michigan speakers for the Michigan-Wisconsin debate are under similar training to that of the football players. They are prohibited from smoking, drinking and all other intemperate habits and are required to keep their voices in the best of condition. Their food is carefully chosen to preserve their body and brain in good health and above all they are required to go to bed early. It is thought that such training has much to do with the success of debaters as well as athletes.
